

Employee Spotlight – Brittany Negrón

How long have you been working at RT New Day?

I have been working at RT New Day for an exciting 9 months.

As a Consultant, what are your primary responsibilities?

As a consultant, my primary focus is applying my environmental restoration and environmental law background to assist retail brokers in placing premises pollution policies. I review Phase I Environmental Site Assessments (ESA) to help give preliminary indications, approach key markets for quotes based on a specific risk type, respond to retail brokers' questions on quotes received, and generate proposals to break down applicable coverages for retail brokers and the insured. My ultimate goal is to establish a trusting, working relationship with our partner brokers to contribute to the continued success of our practice.

What do you find to be the most enjoyable parts of your job?

I enjoy the daily challenges surrounding environmental policies and how they apply to pollution insurance policies. I also enjoy the relationships created when partnering with retail brokers around the country.

How do you like to spend your spare time when you are not at RT New Day?

I love spending time with my Siberian husky, Draco, my family and friends. You will often find me traveling, watching movies, playing softball or volleyball, camping, star-gazing, playing piano, rock climbing, and eating delicious food.
