

Employee Spotlight – Tim Prosser

How long have you been working at RT New Day?

I am now in my second year with RT New Day; I started in December 2017.

As a Consultant, what are your primary responsibilities?

Prompt service is always my first responsibility. Beyond that, my primary responsibilities include production of new business and assisting existing retail clients with their construction related professional liability needs. This can extend to negotiation and placement of coverage, analysis of existing coverages, and discussing how to manage professional and pollution liability exposures for design and construction entities.

What do you find to be the most enjoyable parts of your job?

Chasing new business! Helping a partner retail broker impress a prospect with our coverage assessments, policy comparisons and educational material is always fun.

How do you like to spend your spare time when you are not at RT New Day?

The joys of home ownership now take up a substantial part of my spare time, but I always make room in my weekends for spending time outdoors hiking, camping and gardening.
