EXCESS AUTO LIABILITY

In a climate marked by rising loss costs, aggressive plaintiff attorneys, nuclear verdicts, and litigation funding, protecting your client's assets has never been more critical. Whether your customers are seeking additional coverage for peace of mind or to fulfill a contractual requirement, our experienced team of Excess Auto brokers and underwriters are here to assist.

For-hire trucking and passenger transport operations are required to maintain minimum levels of financial responsibility levels based on the type of freight or the number of passengers they transport. The required minimum limits established in 1980 may no longer suffice in today's challenging environment.

RT Specialty offers the products and solutions needed to safeguard your client's business, from lead excess to layered excess coverage. Gain access to Excess Auto Liability coverage through our extensive list of carriers, along with exclusive alternative risk products.
