John Volanski is a management liability broker at RT Specialty specializing in placing insurance for private equity firms and their portfolio companies. John developed and manages RT Specialty's proprietary Portfolio Prime and Private Capital Prime products. These two programs feature bespoke RT wordings that over ten insurers agree to utilize for portfolio company and private equity / venture capital firm placements.

Previous to RT, John spent over twenty years with Chubb, including its predecessors, in a variety of roles including leading their wholesale specialty business and managing D&O for Westchester. John started in the industry on the actuarial side of the business with Travelers and pursued the same with Executive Risk before being acquired by Chubb. John is a graduate of the Pennsylvania State University with a BS in Actuarial Science.

John manages the oceanfront Vero Beach FL office (aka works remotely from home) where he enjoys fishing and playing golf year-round. Originally from eastern Pennsylvania, John remains a big Philly sports fan. Go Birds!
